

Distribution box RCB

Overview

Telhua's RCB-1 Riser Cable Branch Junction Box delivers high-density fiber management with IP65 protection. Engineered for reliability & fast installation in B2B networks. The box offers mechanical protection and storage space for pigtails, fibre splices, optical connector -J12A dental connection box -2 (ACE RCB-2). One example would be if the RCB-2 box is. Protects all FO, POF and copper connections. 2 pre-determined breaking points for the screw-on mounting to walls. The Alpha series are available in both ABS and UL approved Polycarbonate materials, ideally suited for housing terminal blocks and. Final distribution products are the electrical equipments that are used to supply power from the main supply to individual circuit in industry or residential places.
